Robinett's in America

Story
Vice President Joseph

Robinetts in America

1. ALLEN[1] ROBINETT was born Abt. 1630 in London, England, and died June 05, 1694 in Upper Providence Twp Chester Co Penn. He married MARGARET SYMM September 29, 1653 in Our Lady of Aldermanbury London England.

Notes for ALLEN ROBINETT:
Allen Robinett, who emigrated to America with William Penn's colonists, and his many descendants. Most of the data on the early generations was assembled and written by my late uncle, Allin P. Robinett, 112245-10-1, of Cynwyd, Pennsylvania. A life time of study was required to collect this information. The data from an earlier study, initiated by Captain John D. Robnett, (USN), 13654341, in the 1890s, was used for a large amount of data and for interesting my uncle in the Robinett family. To these two men, we owe our thanks for the information to be presented.

The name, today, has three common spellings; Robinett, Robinette, Robnett. Where possible the correct spelling has been used in the study, however, as the spelling sometimes changes between generations, and even within a single generation, for no known reason, I cannot guarantee that I will always be correct. Early records quite frequently spell the Robinet, which is the true French spelling, though Allen wrote his name Robinett.

The reasons given for the changes in spelling are many. From my own experiences, my name would be spelled correctly more likely if it were spelled Robinette rather than Robinett. One branch of the family said the e was added to make the name look French. In another, the e was added to differentiate one branch from another because of different persuasions, or sympathies, as in the Civil War. The e was accidentally added to a name on a birth certificate, and rather than go through the courts to get the error corrected, the name became Robinette. In early records, particularly the 3rd and 4th generations, the name was often spelled phonetically, Robnet, and from that we probably have the present Robnett spelling in four major branches of the family.

Allen Robinett was neither the first nor the only Robinett to emigrate to America in the 17th century from England. We have records of three members of the Robinett name who were in the Jamestown Colony in Virginia and two who were in Maryland long before Allen came in 1682. However from England and settled on joining farms: Both observers of the Lord's Sabbath, as their posterity bearing the name of Bond does to day, with the exception of those who think more of gaining the world than Heaven."

M. W. Blair also gives the tradition that the first Bond arrived at Philadelphia when but a single cabin stood there, its chimney topped out with a headless barrel, and that his name is said to have been Samuel.

Allen Robinett, a purchaser of land in 1681 from William Penn, was living, with Margaret, his wife, in Upper Providence township early in 1683. A warrant dated 2 mo. 28, 1701, directs the resurvey of 250 acres in Upper Providence to Samuel Robinett, son of Allen Robinett, and Richard Bond, son-in-law of Allen Robinett; and it appears that a patent was granted for this land 4 mo. 30, 1702, to Samuel Robinett and Sarah Bond, for 335 acres. Randall Malin acknowledged a deed to Richard Bond, dated Dec. 22, 1696, for two acres of land in U. Providence, and the latter was constable for Upper Providence in 1697. The family may possibly have returned to England for a time, but Samuel Bond appears as a taxable in Upper Providence from 1715 to 1724. In 1732 his mother was the wife of Joseph Carter, of Ridley, to whom she was probably married in 1708. Joseph Carter was disowned by Friends of Chester Mo. Mtg., 6 mo. 30, 1708, because he "hath actually married to one who doth not any wayes profess the truth with us," notwithstanding he had been precautioned two months ago. In 1732, Sarah Carter appointed her son Samuel Bond of Cecil Co., Md., her attorney to acknowledge two deeds for a tract of land called "Kinsly" in and about the forks of North East river in Maryland, which she and her husband had sold to Samuel Gilpin of Concord and Edward Taylor of Naaman's Creek.

At Chester Mo. Mtg., 9 mo. 28, 1726, Ann Sharples was complained of for marriage by a "priest" to Samuel Bond, who was not a member. For this she made an acknowledgment, which was accepted 5 mo. 31, 1727. She and her husband probably removed to Maryland soon after marriage, as he is not found among the taxables in Chester County after 1724; but it was not till 3 mo. 30, 1737, that a certificate was granted by Chester Mo. Mtg., transferring her membership to Nottingham. In the records of the latter meeting we find the following:

> Ann Bond informs this meeting in writing that she has deliberately, from a principle of duty, joined the 7th day Baptists; we therefore release her from membership with us, desireing her welfare every way. Signed in and by direction of Nottingham Monthly Meeting of friends held 1st Mo. 5th 1747.

At Chester Monthly Meeting, 2, 26, 1753: William Smedley, son of George, and Elizabeth Taylor, daughter of Peter Taylor, deceased, declared their intentions of marriage for the first time. Thomas Pilkington and Robert Pennell, Elizabeth Sharples and Margaret Camm were appointed to make inquiry as to their clearness of other engagements. At the next meeting, 3, 26, 1753, they appeared the second time and were given permission to proceed to the accomplishment of their intentions. Richard Bowman, Thomas Pilkington, Elizabeth Sharples and Margaret Camm were appointed to attend the marriage and see that good order was observed.

WILLIAM AND PETER TAYLOR, both of Sutton, in the County Palatine of Chester (England), husbandmen, purchased from William Penn, by lease and release, March 2d and 3d, 1681–2, 1250 acres of land in Pennsylvania, for £25. They arrived in Pennsylvania in 1682, and took up 350 acres each in Upper Providence township, at the present site of Media. Margaret, the wife of William, died on the 3d of the 1st mo., 1682–3, and her husband three days later. He made his will on the day of his death, in which he mentions his son Joseph "and other children." The witnesses were Peter Taylor, Mary Stevenson and Allen Robinett. As executors he appointed John Simcock and Thomas Minshall.

At a court held at Chester the 6th of 11th mo., 1684: "Ordered that Peter Taylor and Robert Vernome be received into the Grand Jury in the Roome of John Child and Thomas Minkshaw, And Thomas Colborne in the Roome of John Sharply."

Peter Taylor and Sarah Houlston declared their intentions of marriage at Chester Meeting, 1, 2, 1685, and 2, 6, 1685, and were married soon after the last date. Her sister Elizabeth "passed meeting" on the same date, with James Swaffer, and another sister, Rebecca, with William Gregory. They were the daughters of John Houlston, of Upper Providence. In 1712 Peter Taylor removed from Upper Providence, leaving his eldest son, of the same name, at the homestead, and settled in East Caln, where he was a member of Goshen Meeting. He died 9, 15, 1720, and of his will, dated 5, 4, 1720, appointed his wife and son Peter to be executors.

Children of Peter and Sarah Taylor:

and two who were in Maryland long before Allen came in 1682. However, Allen is the only one who left known descendants in America.

Allen Robinett, the emigrant colonist to Pennsylvania, was born, probably in England about 1632; he died 5 June 1694 in Upper Providence Township, Chester (now Delaware) County, Pennsylvania; married 29 September 1653, London, England, Margaret SYMM, who apparently predeceased him3, both buried, perhaps on their plantation in Upper Providence Township or in nearby Sandy Bank Graveyard (Friends', founded 1690) on "Providence Great Road" now in the Borough of Media, PA.
Allen came to America, to Penn's Colony, with his wife, Margaret, and his two younger children, Samuel and Sarah. His two older children, Allen and Susanna, emigrated to Maryland, possibly at an earlier date than Allen Senior. Allen lived in America for not quite twelve short years.

York, purchased it and conducted it until 1857. Samuel Bancroft was the next owner, and after he had operated it for a few years it was utterly destroyed by fire.

Allen Robinett, about 1685, established a mill on land owned by him on Ridley creek, just above Concord road, and in a deed dated 7th mo. 29, 1687, recorded in Philadelphia, Allen Robinett, of Upper Providence, conveyed to Richard Crosby, of Middletown, a "water mill" in Upper Providence, and about two acres of land, on the southwest side of Ridley creek, and "a little bottom on the northeast side." At the time of the transaction, John and Richard Crosby were operators of a grist-mill and saw mill a short distance down the stream, which they acquired in 1705. There is no mention of the Robinett mill on any assessment roll now on file in Chester county, therefore it must have been abandoned before 1766.

On the west side of Ridley creek, near the junction of the Edgemont and Springfield roads, Stephen Malin, a direct descendant of the settler, Randal Malin, to whom the tract was surveyed, erected a grist mill. In 1770 David Malin & Company were assessed on a saw-mill, after which date the name, in connection with mills, disappears from the assessment roll.

John Edge, Jr., Jacob Edge, and Henry Miller, in 1717 entered into partnership to erect a "water corn-mill" on a twenty-acre tract on Ridley creek, land which had become the property of John Edge Sr., June 14, 1696. In 1718 they built the mill, naming it Providence mills, which later became part of the Scyamore mills. Just before the building of this mill, the firm purchased about three acres of land in Edgemont to obtain the race and dam privileges, each partner contributing £5 2s. 8d. On December 17, 1719, Henry Miller purchased John Edge's third interest in these mills, thus obtaining a two-thirds interest, which he devised to his son George by will dated December 17, 1719. George Miller, December 10, 1740, conveyed to Roger Pugh a one-third interest in the mill property, who, 5 mo. 8, 1746, deeded it to Lawrence Cox. The following is an extract from the "Sketch of Bishop's Mill," by Wilmer W. James, published in the Delaware county paper, June 27, 1877:

> "Between May 5, 1746, and April 25, 1752, while Lawrence Cox was the owner of Miller's share, the saw mill was erected, doubtless in 1747, or thirty years after the grist mill, for in the latter part of that year he leased it, excepting one-tenth part, for a term of fourteen years, and at the rate of £2 annually, for a term of fourteen years, to Thomas and John Minshall, of Middletown, both of them at the same time coming in for a fifth share each in the grist mill. They sent their flour to the Barbadoes in 1746, and to Jamaica by the brig "Dolphin" in 1748, in charge of their brother Moses, who was a sea captain, and received sugar in part return. Lawrence Cox was then also part owner of the mills. Thomas Yarnall and John Cox were likewise in partnership with the Minshalls in the saw mill business. There was a curious arrangement made that 'when the grist mill wanted water from the dam, and there was not enough for both, the saw mill was to stand idle,' an excellent contrivance to promote a feud. Cox seemed to have had unlimited faith in his tenants, for in the same year, 1746, he obtained partial possession of the property; he leased one-third of his share to William Hammans for twenty-one years, at an annual rental of £12. In 1757 all the possessions went to his son George."

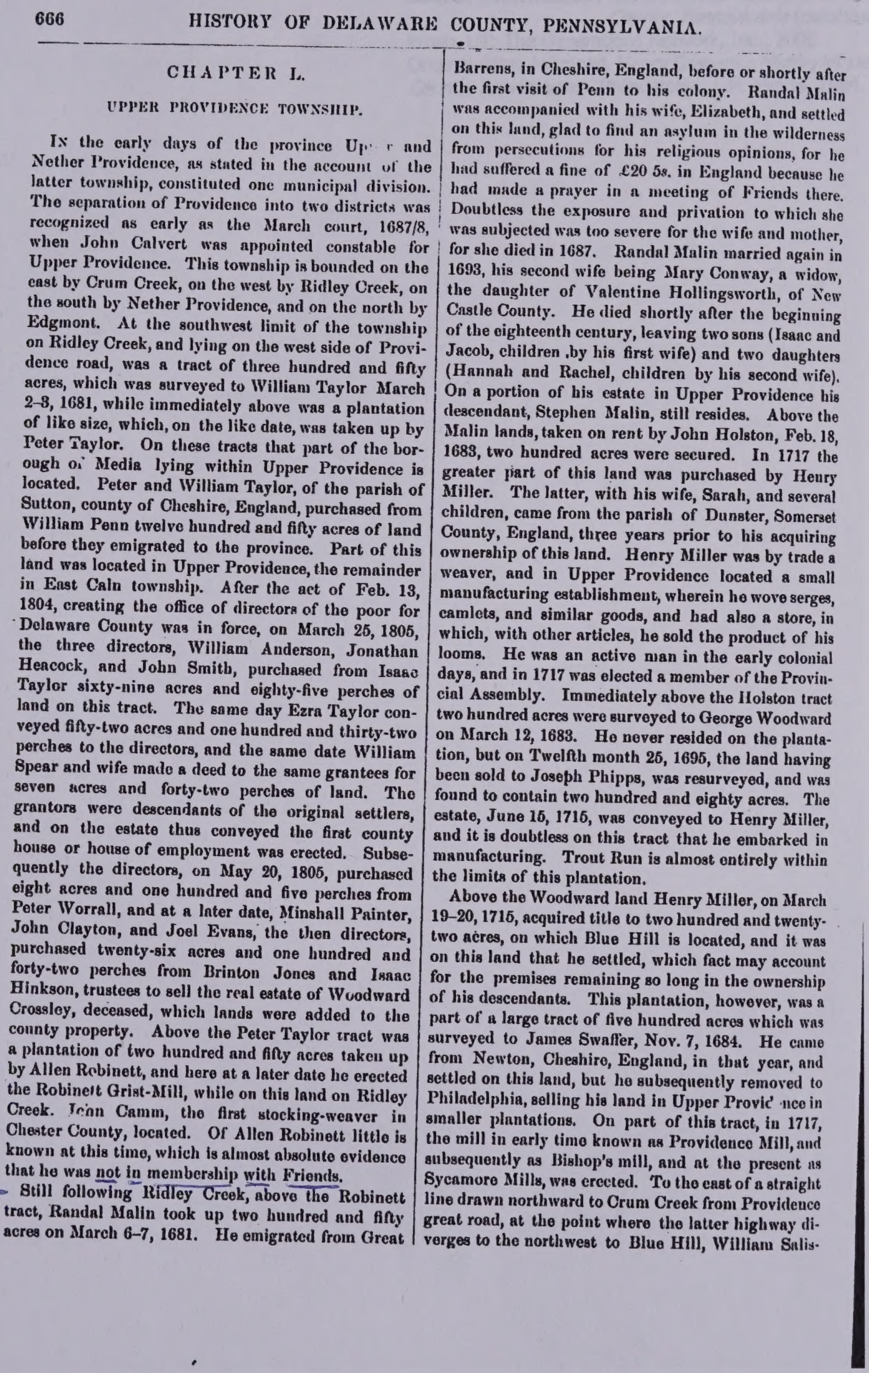
History of Delaware County, Pennsylvania record for an ancestor



CHAPTER L.

UPPER PROVIDENCE TOWNSHIP.

IN the early days of the province Upper and Nether Providence, as stated in the account of the latter township, constituted one municipal division. The separation of Providence into two districts was recognized as early as the March court, 1687/8, when John Calvert was appointed constable for Upper Providence. This township is bounded on the east by Crum Creek, on the west by Ridley Creek, on the south by Nether Providence, and on the north by Edgmont. At the southwest limit of the township on Ridley Creek, and lying on the west side of Providence road, was a tract of three hundred and fifty acres, which was surveyed to William Taylor March 2–3, 1681, while immediately above was a plantation of like size, which, on the like date, was taken up by Peter Taylor. On these tracts that part of the borough of Media lying within Upper Providence is located. Peter and William Taylor, of the parish of Sutton, county of Cheshire, England, purchased from William Penn twelve hundred and fifty acres of land before they emigrated to the province. Part of this land was located in Upper Providence, the remainder in East Caln township. After the act of Feb. 13, 1804, creating the office of directors of the poor for Delaware County was in force, on March 25, 1805, the three directors, William Anderson, Jonathan Heacock, and John Smith, purchased from Isaac Taylor sixty-nine acres and eighty-five perches of land on this tract. The same day Ezra Taylor conveyed fifty-two acres and one hundred and thirty-two perches to the directors, and the same date William Spear and wife made a deed to the same grantees for seven acres and forty-two perches of land. The grantors were descendants of the original settlers, and on the estate thus conveyed the first county house or house of employment was erected. Subsequently the directors, on May 20, 1805, purchased eight acres and one hundred and five perches from Peter Worrall, and at a later date, Minshall Painter, John Clayton, and Joel Evans, the then directors, purchased twenty-six acres and one hundred and forty-two perches from Brinton Jones and Isaac Hinkson, trustees to sell the real estate of Woodward Crossley, deceased, which lands were added to the county property. Above the Peter Taylor tract was a plantation of two hundred and fifty acres taken up by Allen Robinett, and here at a later date he erected the Robinett Grist-Mill, while on this land on Ridley Creek. John Camm, the first stocking-weaver in Chester County, located. Of Allen Robinett little is known at this time, which is almost absolute evidence that he was not in membership with Friends.

Still following Ridley Creek, above the Robinett tract, Randal Malin took up two hundred and fifty acres on March 6–7, 1681. He emigrated from Great Barrens, in Cheshire, England, before or shortly after the first visit of Penn to his colony. Randal Malin was accompanied with his wife, Elizabeth, and settled on this land, glad to find an asylum in the wilderness from persecutions for his religious opinions, for he had suffered a fine of £20 5s. in England because he had made a prayer in a meeting of Friends there. Doubtless the exposure and privation to which she was subjected was too severe for the wife and mother, for she died in 1687. Randal Malin married again in 1693, his second wife being Mary Conway, a widow, the daughter of Valentine Hollingsworth, of New Castle County. He died shortly after the beginning of the eighteenth century, leaving two sons (Isaac and Jacob, children by his first wife) and two daughters (Hannah and Rachel, children by his second wife). On a portion of his estate in Upper Providence his descendant, Stephen Malin, still resides. Above the Malin lands, taken on rent by John Holston, Feb. 18, 1683, two hundred acres were secured. In 1717 the greater part of this land was purchased by Henry Miller. The latter, with his wife, Sarah, and several children, came from the parish of Dunster, Somerset County, England, three years prior to his acquiring ownership of this land. Henry Miller was by trade a weaver, and in Upper Providence located a small manufacturing establishment, wherein he wove serges, camlets, and similar goods, and had also a store, in which, with other articles, he sold the product of his looms. He was an active man in the early colonial days, and in 1717 was elected a member of the Provincial Assembly. Immediately above the Holston tract two hundred acres were surveyed to George Woodward on March 12, 1683. He never resided on the plantation, but on Twelfth month 25, 1695, the land having been sold to Joseph Phipps, was resurveyed, and was found to contain two hundred and eighty acres. The estate, June 15, 1715, was conveyed to Henry Miller, and it is doubtless on this tract that he embarked in manufacturing. Trout Run is almost entirely within the limits of this plantation.

Above the Woodward land Henry Miller, on March 19–20, 1715, acquired title to two hundred and twenty-two acres, on which Blue Hill is located, and it was on this land that he settled, which fact may account for the premises remaining so long in the ownership of his descendants. This plantation, however, was a part of a large tract of five hundred acres which was surveyed to James Swaffer, Nov. 7, 1684. He came from Newton, Cheshire, England, in that year, and settled on this land, but he subsequently removed to Philadelphia, selling his land in Upper Providence in smaller plantations. On part of this tract, in 1717, the mill in early time known as Providence Mill, and subsequently as Bishop's mill, and at the present as Sycamore Mills, was erected. To the east of a straight line drawn northward to Crum Creek from Providence great road, at the point where the latter highway diverges to the northwest to Blue Hill, William Salis-

Robinett's in America

The new Vice President of the United States is Joseph Robinette Biden, Jr. One online source states the following about Biden and his ancestry:

The Robinette Family
"Senator Biden's middle name, Robinette, comes from his grandmother, Mary E. Robinette, wife of Joseph Biden. She was the daughter of George H. Robinette, born in 1844 in Virginia, and his wife, Mary, and granddaughter of Moses and Jane (Humphrey) Robinette. It is believed that this family descends from Allen Robinett, who was born in England in 1632 and settled in Chester Co., PA, where he died in 1694. If so, it is Biden's only major line back to the 1600s in America."

Phillip's Quest

I'm glad you stopped by for a visit. I'm a beginning genealogist in Birmingham, Alabama. Born in Blount County, Alabama in 1953, I grew up on our small family farm at Locust Fork and lived there until 1990, when I moved to Birmingham, Alabama. I began my genealogy project in July, 1999. The most common surnames in my (currently known) direct line include Tidwell, Fendley, Robinett(e) and McCay. Join with me on the Quest for my family history and help solve the mysteries.

I'll be adding to and improving this site as time goes on and new items are collected so be sure to visit often. While you're here please sign my Guestbook.

A little bit of my family history is here

As I said earlier, I just started my family research in July, 1999, although I had "thought" about it for a long time, especially since I grew up with the "legend" that a great-great grandmother in my Tidwell line was full-blooded Cherokee Indian. But I didn't quite know where or how to begin to discover if that was true. Luckily I learned that a young 1st cousin twice removed had already been researching our Tidwell line and that he had found the Cherokee link. He told me he had gotten a lot of his information on the Internet via websites, newsgroups and e-mail and I knew then if he could do it I could too! He gave me a copy of his Tidwell file and I was all done. . . I thought! I began to compare some of his information with what I knew and quickly discovered some of his information was wrong. And thanks to him I have "met" previously unknown cousins who have helped me get better facts. Much of the information in my Tidwell file is based on information given to me by others and has not been verified or documented by me. If you find an error or omission and have verifiable documentation please e-mail me.

I had originally started only looking for my paternal Tidwell ancestors but somewhere along the way my maternal Robinette grandparents caught my interest when I learned how influential they were in the history of Locust Fork and Blount County, Alabama and genealogy began to be more than just tracking family trees. I soon discovered the Robinett Family Association (RFA) has a large amount of data on the Robinett/Robinette and allied families published in volumes of books entitled "Allen Robinett and His Descendants in America. These books are a compilation of family group sheets over a 50 year time period and have been found to contain a lot of mistakes. The RFA member volunteers are working to gather verifiable documentation and facts to update and correct the books. As a volunteer for the RFA I have transcribed several volumes of those books, which includes my own direct Robinett(e) line, and posted online. It is our hope that other researchers will be able to assist us by providing documented corrections/additions. If you have an addition or correction with verifiable documentation please e-mail me.

The name of this person was written across the top in ink that is now faded. The first initial "J" is still visible, as is the last name, "Robinett." The middle initial appears to be an "A" but is so faded it is impossible to tell with certainty. Can you identify this Robinett ancestor?
